In Address Before U. S. Senate Today

GREAT BRITAIN IGNORES

Rights of Neutrals By Establishing Blockade of Ports Which Are Admitted By All Belligerents to Be Neutral—Georgia Senator's Address to the Nation's Lawmakers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, Dec. 10.—Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia, in an address in the senate today, called upon congress to insist that Great Britain cease interference with neutral commerce. He declared that protests by the American state department had been met by increased lawlessness and trampling upon neutral rights.

"The United States with other nations should demand from Great Britain," said the senator, "that disregard of their rights cease. It may be necessary for the United States and other neutrals to let Great Britain understand that 'no word or act' will be omitted to enforce their rights."

The British merchants and shippers are profiting greatly, he asserted, by exporting the very character of goods seized when shipped from the United States to neutral European ports.

"The blockade of neutral ports is a deliberate disregard of neutral rights by Great Britain," Senator Smith continued. "There can be no pretense that it is sustained by the customs of nations. Indeed, there is no such pretense. It is a bold, reckless disregard of that freedom of the seas, which is the right of neutrals by the customs of the nations and the rules of international law."

"Yet for eight months this disregard of the sovereign rights of all neutral countries has been permitted to continue to the serious injury of the commerce of their citizens," Senator Smith declared that Great Britain could be excused on the ground that the United States had acted illegally and improperly in a similar way during the Civil War. He quoted from the decision of the United States supreme court decisions in the Bermuda and Springbok cases and said:

"In these cases the right of seizure was based, not on the blockade of a neutral port, but on the fact that shippers had arranged a continuous voyage for the goods by sea into a blockaded port."

Remarking that the relations between the United States and Great Britain had been growing closer for a hundred years the senator added: "But we are not a dependency of Great Britain." Germany, too, he said, had always been a friend of the United States, and many American citizens love that country only second to their own.

"The United States, therefore, owes it to her citizens and to her friends to maintain a neutrality," said Senator Smith. "Neutrals must maintain their neutral rights, to maintain neutrality. Great Britain may desire to crush an enemy through subtle trade, but she has no right to do it at our loss or to make us the instrument of it."

SILK MILLS

MUST CLOSE UNLESS EMBARGO OF ENGLAND IS LIFTED OR MODIFIED.

Forty Thousand Workmen Will Be Thrown Out of Employment at Paterson, N. J., Alone.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, Dec. 10.—Silk manufacturers from Paterson, N. J., told Counselor Polk of the state department today that unless Great Britain modifies her embargo of December 3, on the shipment of logwood from her West Indian possessions, the big silk mills at Paterson probably would have to suspend operations within three months for lack of dye-stuffs. Forty thousand workmen there and many thousands in other parts of the country would be affected they said. The manufacturers headed by Senator Hughes and former Attorney General Griggs urged that representations be made to England to remove the embargo which prohibits shipments except to British ports. Mr. Polk replied that such representations had already been made through the British ambassador, and that prospects of arranging for American manufacturers to supply their needs seemed good.

GRAVE SITUATION FOR THE ALLIES, PAPERS' OPINION

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
London, Dec. 10.—All the morning newspapers comment on what they characterize the grave situation of the entente forces in Serbia. The Saloniki correspondent of the Chronicle describing the Bulgarian attacks says: "Fairly important Bulgarian forces are engaged in the fighting much more resembles that of the previous Balkan war through the operations now familiar in France and Flanders. The country is rough and mountains and mists greatly facilitate that is really guerrilla warfare. On different occasions a suddenly lifting mist has left the Bulgarians in a very exposed position close to the British front, which has allowed the British Maxims to get into action and inflict heavy losses."

TOWN'S SITE NOW A FIRE SWEEP RUIN

HARDLY A BUILDING REMAINS IN POWDER FACTORY CITY TODAY

One Death Reported Although Many Have Reported Minor Injuries—Investigation Ordered.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Hopewell, Va., Dec. 10.—The town of Hopewell, swept by fire yesterday and last night was almost as bare today as the cornfield in which its first buildings were put up a year ago.

Four hundred houses, most of them wood, constructed in feverish haste to care for the influx of people brought here by activities at the Dupont explosives plant were hocked up by the flames. In the main part of the town of twenty-five thousand persons hardly a building remained, though the great explosive plant nearby and company villages at either end of the town, escaped undamaged. The loss is put at $1,000,000.

Thousands of refugees who throughout the afternoon had sought help as their homes and places of business burned, were housed during the night in Petersburg and Richmond.

Many of those who saved their household goods stood guard over their effects with repeating rifles all night. Firemen from Richmond and special guards from inside the Dupont plant helped the Hopewell police force to keep order.

Although many were injured only one death was reported. A negro caught looting was said to have been strung up to a tree at the edge of the town.

The fire started in a restaurant when an oil stove toppled from a box in the kitchen. A hotel caught next and soon the flames, driven by a still wind, were eating their way through banks, stores, hotels and dwellings. The only church in the town was one of the first buildings to go.

An eleven-year-old boy was the hero of the fire. Twice he rushed into a building and each time reappeared with a baby in his arms.

The explosives plant, which day and night is running at top speed turning out war munitions for the allies, ceased operations only long enough to make sure none of the buildings would burn. Once when the fire got close all the hands were turned out to pour water on the buildings, but a shift of the wind turned the flames in another direction and the plant started up again.

There was little insurance on the buildings, it was said.

AUTHORITIES

From Federal Department of Justice Will Investigate.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, Dec. 10.—Chief Belasky, of the justice bureau of investigation, today, instructed his agent at Norfolk, to proceed to Hopewell, Va., and make a thorough investigation of yesterday's disastrous fire. A report within a few days is expected.

Federal agents investigating fires in powder plants and munitions works have failed to find basis for governmental prosecution and officials doubted if the Hopewell investigation would reveal anything upon which the department could take action.

TROOPS GUARD

Ruins at Hopewell and No Disorder Is Expected.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Petersburg, Va., Dec. 10.—A battalion of Virginia troops is guarding the ruins of Hopewell, and no disorder of any character is reported. A meeting of citizens today began efforts to have all new buildings of brick. Three fire insurance men estimated the total loss at $2,000,000. The Dupont powder plant is operating as usual and there have been no developments in the case of the man arrested Wednesday afternoon with negroes in his possession. The arrest was confirmed today by the Dupont police force, although officials of the company refuse to talk.

The city council of Petersburg has appropriated $7,500 for relief with the understanding that the mayor may expend as much more as he feels

VIOLENT

Renewal of Bulgarian Attack Upon Anglo-French Front

ASSAULT IS AT THE CLIMAX

Pursuit of Retreating Serbians Continues

NUMERICALLY SUPERIOR

The Bulgar Troops Have Demonstrated the Upper-Hand In Initial Encounter With the British—Hard Fighting Upon the Western Front—Montenegrians Resist.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
London, Dec. 10.—The Bulgarians heavily reinforced and well supported by artillery are renewing violently their attack upon the Franco-British forces in Macedonia. Their assault has gone through all the preliminary stages and is now approaching the climax of intensity.

Although pursuit of the Serbians still continues it is apparent from the proportions which the Macedonian conflict is assuming. The major part of the Bulgarian army has diverted its attention to the allies. The outcome of the battle now in progress is awaited with great anxiety in England, as it will determine in great measure the immediate future for the entente powers in the Balkans.

The numerical superiority of the Bulgarian forces already has been demonstrated in the initial encounters with the British. Grave doubts are voiced here as to the ability of the British forces to repel the increasing momentum of the Bulgarian attack. There is no indication, however, that the British or French have yet found it necessary to withdraw further than the positions mentioned in recent official communications.

With Bulgarians in the position at Dimir-Kapu and advancing west of the Vardar in the neighborhood of Petrovo south of Strumitsa station, the French wedge in Macedonia threatened from both sides. The allied retreat toward the Greek border thus far has been accomplished in good order without serious losses.

Resistances of the Montenegrins and the plight of the Serbians fleeing into Albania is said to be growing less serious. But military affairs in these sections have become of comparatively small importance and have little bearing on the main situation which, since the Serbian retreat has shifted southward.

Hard fighting continues on the western front, where the Germans have been compelled to relinquish all but a small part of the advanced trench captured by them east of Butte de Somain. There have been no important developments on the other fronts.

WILLIS GETS A KNOCKOUT BY TRIBUNAL

SUPREME COURT DECIDES HIS REMOVAL OF CLENDENING WAS UNLAWFUL.

Unanimous Decision of Court Reinstates Liquor License Commissioner Dismissed.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Columbus, Dec. 10.—Ohio supreme court this afternoon, by unanimous vote, reinstated Byron M. Clendening, Democrat, of Cincinnati, as member of the state liquor commission, holding that his removal by Governor Willis because he aided in the referendum on the McDermott liquor license law was unlawful.

This decision ousts J. Edward Hurst of Philadelphia, a member of the True Democracy, who was put in Clendening's place by the governor.

The court also in the case of John F. Nolan, member of the Jefferson county licensing board, decided that charges could not be lawfully heard by the state board against Nolan and 12 other county board members whose removal was sought by the state administration because they took part in the McDermott referendum.

The court holds that participation in this referendum by Clendening and those county members was not misconduct. Attorney General Turner in a ruling to Governor Willis some time ago held that this was misconduct and as such was the cause for removal.

The county board members applied for a writ of prohibition to pre-

American Ship Fired Upon by a French Cruiser in Holding Her Up for Search

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
San Juan, Porto Rico, Dec. 10.—Four blank shots and two solid shots were fired by the French cruiser Descartes in holding up the American steamship Coamo yesterday.

A French lieutenant who boarded the Coamo said orders had been given to take all subjects of Germany and her allies from ships crews beginning December 8, and to take all such persons from among the passengers after December 8.

After the six shots had been fired, the Coamo had stopped a small boat put out from the cruiser, with the lieutenant and his men. On boarding the Coamo the lieutenant proceeded to Captain Barbour's cabin and demanded that the captain produce lists of the passengers and crew.

The passengers were alarmed and ran from the staterooms in their night clothes. Captain Barbour asked why the Descartes had not waited until morning to stop the Coamo, so as to avoid alarming the passengers. The lieutenant replied he feared the steamer would have reached port.

The captain protested against the action of the lieutenant in taking off the four German firemen, saying his vessel never had been boarded before. The lieutenant then informed him of the orders he said he had received.

The German firemen were paid off before being taken from the Coamo and the passengers gathered on the deck to wish them good luck. The American steamship Carolina sailed from this port on Wednesday afternoon and is due in New York on Monday.

He appealed to business men to apply themselves to business as if they were building up the constitution of the United States and a common kindred of all mankind."

The president concluded his address amid great applause. The entire audience stood up and sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

He then left for the state capitol for a public reception.

He criticized the policy of protection. Business, he declared, should be efficient but it should not be organized in order to secure monopolies.

"I for my part," he said, "look forward to the future of American business with confidence, because it has changed its point of view."

He opposed the injection of politics into business. He described himself as a "militant Democrat," and added that the Democratic party wanted to help business.

President Wilson arrived here at 8:45 a. m. today, to deliver two addresses and attend a public reception in the rotunda of the state capitol. He was greeted by an enthusiastic cheering crowd at the railroad station.

In spite of the cold weather, the streets between the station and the President's hotel were lined with crowds which applauded as he passed. The president had refused to consent to a parade escorting him and therefore the reception was very simple. He was met at his private car by a committee led by Gifford Pinchot, former United States forester, and William E. Tracy, president of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce.

Columbus suffragists sent the president a large bouquet of roses after he arrived at his hotel. With the roses was a card saying the suffragists supported the Susan B. Anthony constitutional amendment introduced in both houses of congress at Washington, providing for nationwide woman-suffrage. The president earlier in the week told suffragists he would discuss the amendment with congressional leaders.

Soon after his arrival at his hotel, the clear, cold weather enticed the president, and he walked through the business streets of Columbus accompanied by Secret service men. He was quickly recognized and followed by a crowd. He stopped frequently, to look in shop windows. Several times he bowed, and smiled to people who spoke to him.

TURNED DOWN REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, Dec. 10.—The State liquor license commission today turned down the Republican county committee in making an appointment on the Columbiana county liquor licensing board. The committee recommended Thos. Horton of East Liverpool, but the commission gave the place to Harry M. Brokaw of that city. Horton was backed by the west, while Brokaw was urged by the drys.

Brokaw will succeed A. A. Galbreath of Rogers, who tendered his resignation and then asked permission to withdraw it.

The board appointed Casius M. Stevens of Malinta, to succeed J. J. Johnson as member of the Henry county licensing board, and appointed G. C. Morcy of Hamilton to succeed D. W. Heiser as member of the Butler county board.

In six appeal cases from Lucas county, the commission overruled the action of the county board in four cases and ordered licenses granted, and sustained the board in two cases, in which licenses were refused. As a result of these findings Maurice Krauss, Jule M. Surtman, Alex Genard will receive licenses, while James J. Foley & Son and Edward C. Sullivan, all of Toledo, will be denied licenses.

RETREAT CONTINUED.

Sounds a Keynote That Business Men Cannot Be Separated From the History of the Nation's Progress, and By Inference That the Country's Future Must Depend Upon Their Intelligent and Honest Efforts—Will Address a Meeting of Church Members Tonight—Passed Through Newark This Morning But No One Saw Him.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 10.—Preparedness by business to mobilize the resources of the nation as a measure of national defense was urged by President Wilson here today in a ringing address before the Columbus chamber of commerce. His words were given added significance by the disputes pending between the United States and Austria and Germany.

The president's address was applauded by a non-partisan audience of 1100 men, including many of the leading officials and business men of Ohio. While he had not written it out in advance, he had thought it over carefully. His theme was the statesmanship of industry.

"The president told the businessmen that it was impossible to separate business life. He declared that the two were inseparable. The history of business in the United States, he said, was tied up with the history of the nation."

The need of ships to carry the commerce of the nation was dwelt upon. Since the war of 1812, he declared, the United States has purposely attended first to internal affairs. Some businessmen, he declared sought foreign trade, but many disregarded it.

"The banking and currency law passed during the present administration was lauded by the president as a great aid to foreign commerce. Until it was passed there were hardly any foreign branches of American banks."

Repeating the idea expressed in his last message to congress, the president said that he believed in liberty of all peoples. He declared aggressively that as long as he was president Mexico would be allowed to choose its own government.

The president's words were frequently marked by applause. He spoke rapidly but carefully and used more emphatic gestures than usual.

"I would not entrust the economic progress of the nation to a few trustees," said the president.

"The European war, he declared had put the United States in new relation to the world. This nation will have to be the reserve force of the world, he asserted."

"It is imperative therefore," he continued, "that no obstacle shall be put in the way of American business."

"Business has been set free by the new banking laws," he added. He spoke of the opportunities of Democratic America.

"I like to think of the boy in the gutter," he declared, "who will some day stand up and speak the voice of America."

Business, the President declared, should stand on its own feet. American business men should not be afraid to match wits with any in the world. The typical American should be utterly independent, he added, that business men should not need the help of official Washington as much as they think they do.

"Too many business men," he said, "run down to Washington and say 'it looks like rain. For God's sake give us shelter.'"

The president amid great applause declared he believed that when the present war is over the people of the world will demand guarantees that peace shall remain.

"If America preserves her self possession," he added, "she may exert a great mediation influence. I mean spiritual mediation, not government mediation."

He appealed to business men to apply themselves to business as if they were building up the constitution of the United States and a common kindred of all mankind."

The president concluded his address amid great applause. The entire audience stood up and sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

He then left for the state capitol for a public reception.

He criticized the policy of protection. Business, he declared, should be efficient but it should not be organized in order to secure monopolies.

of the large hall in the Masonic Temple in which the reception was held. Eleven hundred men were present and many more had been turned away.

The president shook hands with Governor Harrison of Ohio, and members of the Ohio Democratic central committee just before leaving for the luncheon. As he emerged from his hotel, crowds which filled the streets for several blocks, broke into cheers. He was applauded throughout his trip to the temple and frequently bowed to the crowds.

THROUGH NEWARK

President's Special Passed and None Saw Nation's Chief.

If President Wilson's party knew the City of Newark was on the map, there was no indication of the fact when the president's train passed through Newark this morning about 9 o'clock. The train didn't even hesitate. A crowd of several hundred people which had been waiting in the cold, bleak wind, was disappointed. The President and others were at breakfast in the Pullman car. Persons seated at the table, when the train slowed and their hands as the train gathered speed and disappeared in the western end of the yards.

COUNTRY LIFE

In Its Relation to Church Discussed at Conference.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Columbus, O., Dec. 10.—Preliminary plans for conducting rural church surveys in nearly every state were discussed at the national conference of the commission on Church and Country Life during its closing sessions here today. President Wilson will be the principal speaker before the conference tonight.

Delegates from New York state learned that a donation of several thousand dollars had been made to assist in a proposed survey of that state, and it was said the commission probably would supervise such an inquiry there within a year. Ohio is the first state to have a thorough rural church survey, it was explained. The work here is nearly completed.

Delegates from each side held separate meetings today and agreed to call meetings to consider problems connected with state surveys, which are considered the first step necessary in a movement to reorganize rural churches along co-operative or federated lines.

The next step is to effect the union of rural churches in local communities.

The Rev. John M. Moore of Nashville, Tenn., one of the speakers on today's program, criticized sectarian aloofness. "The narrow, offensive church sectarian and denominational bally can no longer represent Christianity in this country, whatever its church affiliation," he said. "Growth in co-operation among churches will at once rid all communities of such intolerant ways."

Henry Wallace, Pres. Moines agricultural education, deplored the system of tenancy and urged longer leases for farmers. Other speakers on the program today were the Rev. C. Talbot, Rochester, N. Y.; Dr. W. C. Climbinger, Westerville, Ohio; the Rev. George N. Lusk, Oak Park, Ill.; and Bishop William F. Anderson, Cincinnati.

Bowser Defeats Detroit in 2 Straight Falls; Event Was Clean; Crowd Pleased

Paul Bowser, 160-pound wrestler, who has recently located in Newark, last night defeated Frank Hackensmitt of Detroit in two straight falls in a match at the Music Hall alleys. The event was witnessed by a much larger crowd than was anticipated. More than 200 persons gathered around the mat to watch the athletes in their splendid struggle.

Wrestling bouts staged in Newark in the past have been uninteresting. They have lacked action enough to keep the average spectator from going to sleep.

In this respect, the Bowser-Hackensmitt bout differed greatly. There was as much action in the event last night as in the best boxing matches. The work of the wrestlers was frequently greeted by cheers and applause as one or the other scored an especially brilliant bit of strategy in escaping from his opponent. That those around the ringside were good sportsmen, was indicated when they cheered Hackensmitt as freely as they did Bowser.

Bowser's first fall was scored on a head lock and scissor lock, after 36 minutes and 27 seconds. His second fall was the result of the deadly toe hold, and came 14 minutes and 17 seconds after the first fall went to the mat.

In the preliminary Eppe Frenier worked mighty hard for 10 minutes to put Dave Kerr's shoulder to the mat but the New York boy was too heavy for Frenier and the event was a draw, neither of the men scoring a fall.

Herbert Webber was referee in both events and his work was eminently satisfactory to the wrestlers and spectators alike. John Bader and Charles Harris were the timers.

Before the main bout, L. C. Russell was introduced and made a few remarks regarding the revival of wrestling here.

"Newark people like clean athletics, and most of us will agree that we have not had enough of that sort," Mr. Bowser, who is responsible for tonight's entertainment, is a resident of the city, and is promoter of the school of instruction which has recently opened here. We all wish him success.

"Newark people generally will welcome sports when clean, the success of this venture will be assured if we conduct ourselves well and guard our conduct."

He introduced Referee Webber, who presented the wrestlers, after announcing that the match would not be limited as to time, two falls in three to declare the winner and flying falls not to count.

The men shook hands and within a moment were locked in a desperate struggle. For the first thirty minutes the men wrestled with honors even, though it seemed that Bowser was more frequently in danger of being forced to the mat. Each time, however, Bowser resisted his efforts, rested himself for a mighty struggle and suddenly with one supreme effort tore himself from Hackensmitt's grasp and escaped. Then Hack was on the defensive. After 25 minutes of wrestling, Hackensmitt secured a toe hold on Bowser and it seemed certain that he would floor the Newark boy, but again Bowser showed his ability to take punishment courageously and again he wrested himself from Hack's grasp.

At the end of 29 1-2 minutes Bowser got Hackensmitt in a dangerous position near the edge of the mat and must surely have scored the fall but for the rule agreed upon in the beginning that under such conditions the athlete should return to the center of the mat.

When the timer called "35 minutes" Bowser had Hackensmitt in a critical position and was slowly forcing the Detroit man down. After a minute and a half both shoulders were held to the mat and Bowser was declared the winner of the first fall.

After a rest of five minutes, the wrestlers again went at it. Bowser was the aggressor from the beginning. Twice he secured the fatal toe hold on his adversary, the first time Hack escaping after narrowly averting defeat. He was not so fortunate the second time. Bowser securing the hold after wriggling from a difficult position and taking advantage of Hackensmitt's lack of agility, quickly seized the Detroit man's foot, stood him on his head and then by superhuman effort, forced the German to the mat. Hackensmitt lay prostrate for an instant after Bowser let go his hold when he had been declared the winner. He quickly recovered however.

Bowser addressed the spectators, declaring that he expected to remain in Newark and hoped to be able to interest the lovers of clean athletics in indoor sports.

Hackensmitt acknowledged Bowser's superiority in the evening struggle and declared that the Newark boy had observed all the rules of the game and attempted no foul tactics. He gave Bowser full credit for the victory.

MUSCULAR BACKACHE

The muscles of the back do the heavy work of the body. When they are overworked or ill nourished they ache and people who are looking for trouble begin to worry about their kidneys.

Backache may be due to lumbago, which is rheumatism of the muscles of the back, but more backaches are caused by overstrain, overwork and muscle starvation due to thin blood than by anything else.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and sufferers from backache would do well to try this treatment before giving way to worry over a fancied organic disease. Rest and the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will correct most forms of backache, even rheumatic.

For people who work too hard or dance too much and sleep too little, better habits and a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are needed to drive away the pains and aches that are warnings of a coming breakdown.

Two books, "Building Up the Blood" and "Nervous Disorders" will be sent free, if you are interested, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at the nearest drug store or by mail at 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50.

COW BREAKS ALL BUTTER RECORD

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 10.—A dairy Pontiff, Johanna, a cow valued at $20,000 has just broken the world's record for butter production by yielding 659 pounds of milk in one week from which was made 11.81 pounds of butter. This eclipses the former butter record by 5 1-4 pounds. The record cow was milked four times daily under supervision of a representative of the New York state agricultural department.

ESTABLISHED IN 1820

March 10, 1882, at the Postoffice at Newark, Ohio, under Act of March 4, 1879.

Some folks idea of Preparedness
is getting out for a Christmas present about Dec. 23.

The scientists say the dish towel is unsanitary, but the maid can still wipe the dishes on her apron.

Strange to say Henry Ford did not take on his trip to Europe any representatives of either the grammar schools, the primary schools, or the kindergartens.

As the style makers have decreed short skirts again, there are some of the girls who must economize on

If military training is put into the colleges, some study periods will have to be given up, but it is not likely that there will be any less

If the war goes on, gasoline will go up on account of the demand for it for army use, and if the war stops gasoline will go up because it is wanted for peace uses.

There are still some of our friends who believe that an invading army
with modern guns should be met with a force armed with sweet smiles and a battery of condemned civil war cannon.

Pottery Business Rushing.

Governor Willis made some pitiful speeches in 1914, shedding salt tears
over what he pictured was the ruin of the pottery industry because of the present tariff law and the actions of the national administration. Governor Willis ought now to take a day off and go to visit East Liverpool, the center of the pottery industry in the United States. Owners of potteries there this week stated that every pottery in the United States would have to work rush time for a year to take care of orders now on hand.
The demand for the product of the state simply cannot be met. If somebody should tell Governor Willis it would probably spoil his Christmas celebration.

Ohio's "Big Four."

An ominous calm has followed the announcement of the "fixit fellows"
in regard to the Republican plans in Ohio for 1916, especially in regard to the makeup of the "Big Four" delegation to the Republican national convention.

After Willis had polished Burton and Burton had polished Willis and Harry Daugherty announced that he was satisfied, the names of the Republican delegates-at-large-to-be were announced, but—

It develops that the Burton fel-

Theatrical Press Agents.

When the country people go to the city for a lark or a business trip,
the visits to the theaters are a big incident in the outing. In city life play going is the real interest of life for many people. So it is that to many persons the theatrical press
notices are the most interesting news in the paper. But all that glitters is not gold.

In these days of publicity, the press agent is a powerful factor,
whether it be in feeding out copy
about automobiles, summer resorts, railroads, or the theater. The latter field has always offered him the widest range for his exuberant fancy. How he does heap up the glowing superlatives in praise of many mediocre plays. He so frequently exaggerates that people spend their money on entertainments that don't come up to the promises made. They are disappointed, and next time are quite likely to go to the movies.

Theatrical managers often defend this tendency to overstatement. They argue that a good play may be able to draw the crowd on its reputation.
But a poor one has to be puffed sky
high, or it would get no business.
That is a poor way to build up permanent patronage.

The result of this policy is that people become very distrustful of theatrical press agent work, and will not believe it when even a good performance receives the laudation
it deserves. Thus it happens that a great many admirable plays finely done by excellent companies fail to get adequate support. This is most regrettable. The spoken drama should be a deathless art, and there is a public loss of its finer manifestations are not well supported.

The press agent should bridle his warm imagination, and hold down his flow of glowing words. Where every play is pronounced the greatest success of the season, the public becomes skeptical about the worth of all plays. When every farce is called a screamer, the public concludes that none of them are funny.
A policy of sincere frankness will pay in the long run in the theater
business as in every other field.
Many theatrical press agents understand this perfectly, but many others do not.

Test Patriotism.

(New York World.)

Not since the civil war has any other President given to the Congress such momentous "information of the state of the Union" as President Wilson gave it in an address dealing almost wholly with the issue of national defense in its various forms.

No other part of that address was so momentous as those paragraphs in which the President asserted that
"the gravest threats against our peace and safety have been uttered
within our own borders."

To a Republic there can be no menace from without which is comparable to a menace of disloyalty from within. Of all the dangers that confront the country that is the most difficult to cope with, for we have made no preparation to cope with it. As the President said to Congress, a little while ago we should have been "almost ashamed to prepare for it," because it would have "seemed incredible." Yet in this crisis we have discovered that a large element in the population of the United States is openly, avowed-ly and boastfully disloyal to the United States. In the solemn, measured words of the President, "they have formed plots to destroy property, they have entered into conspiracies against the neutrality of the Government; they have sought to spy into every confidential transaction of the Government in order to serve interests alien to our own,"
and the end is not yet reached.

To deal with this issue of sedition
is at the beginning of national defense. Neither armies nor navies can offer security to a nation if its population is honeycombed with disloyalty, and if allegiance to the Constitution is a lying and fraudulent allegiance.

Big War Orders.

(New York Sun.)

The Russian Government wants to buy cannon. American manufacturers of ordnance want the orders.
Many difficulties are in the way for speedy closing of contracts. Among them is the shortage of skilled labor in the machine shops of the ordnance companies. The Russian inquiry now in the market is for 5000
three-inch guns. Each gun requires 2000 pounds of high grade nickel
steel, and with the recoil mechanism, jackets, trucks and wheels, each piece of ordnance will weigh from 5000 to 7000 pounds. Delivery is asked during 1916, as may be convenient for the ordnance manufacturers. It is understood that even if the order were accepted now it would be March or April of next year before work could be started in the foundries and shops. It is estimated that each piece of ordnance would cost from $7000 to $8000, which means the expenditure of from $35,000,000 to $40,000,000. The inquiry comes from the foreign interest that placed the original contract for high explosive shells for Russia
with the Canadian Car and Foundry Company, which contract called for the expenditure of $33,000,000.

The impression that European governments now at war have come to the end of their buying of munitions
in this country proves to have been far from the truth. In the last 10 days inquiries for munitions

tonnages of steel have come from the allied governments. Yesterday
one inquiry alone was for approximately 60,000 tons of round steel bars. About 60,000 tons are still pending on contracts for shells previously placed, and last week a new inquiry for 50,000 tons of bars for direct export was received by American mills, most of which, it is understood, is for Italy. The inquiry that came out yesterday is understood to be for the French Government, and is also for direct export.
These inquiries seem to verify the reports that French manufacturers of ordnance are now in better position to turn out shells.

The Canadian Shell Commission,
it is now understood, is still endeavoring to place contracts for 15,000-000 high explosive shells for Great Britain and Russia. In the last two weeks the Commission has distributed orders for about 10,000,000
shells with Canadian manufacturers.

It's Great to Be Neutral.

(Pittsburgh Gazette Times.)

As the chief neutral of the world,
Uncle Sam is paying for his prominence in being also the most universally unpopular figure on the face of the earth today. This is judging from the way the old gentleman is handled in the publications of the various countries. Next to the figure of the war god, Mars, the familiar chap with goatee, bell-crowned hat and striped trousers is the most caricatured object on earth. The comic papers of all the warring nations find in him a common target for their humor, satire or venom, as the case may be, and in each of them
he is a close second to their dearest enemy, whoever that chances to be.
In England and France the Kaiser run first, with Uncle Sam a close second. In Germany John Bull holds a slight lead over his American cousin. Italy awards first place to Emperor Franz Josef, but is far from neglecting Uncle Sam. Russia, Japan, Turkey and various of the battling powers and their colonies vie with one another in lampooning the benevolent old gentleman, while in Mexico he has long been practically the sole model.

The European conceptions of Uncle Sam are of infinite variety and the depictions are not without interest.
He has been made to personify about every characteristic in the whole gamut of humanity and some others beside. He has been pictured as a cringing coward and a hectoring bully, as a grasping Shylock and a complacent simpleton; liberties have been taken with his time-honored whiskers, which have been portrayed all the way from the starchless hang-downs of meek submissiveness to the spiny shoe brush of aggressive belligerency. His striped pants, his starry vest and his venerable old beaver have been similarly misused and abused according to the varying moods of the artists. Strange and alien phrases have been put in his mouth and he has been invested with characteristics as diverse as the countries from which they sprang.
Marvelous indeed would be the international gyroscope of the universal amity that could keep U. S. on an even keel in the troubled waters of today.

The Pauper.

The sad and seedy pauper has no
one for a friend; his life has been improper, and now it nears the end.
Some cold and frosty morning will see him borne away, another awful warning, to sleep till Judgment Day.
And once he was as elided as any blissome swain, and palaces he built among the hills of Spain. He had his golden vision, when he was young, like you; the future was eysian, in his ecstatic view. When they have laid the pauper behind the old gray kirk, they'll say, "He came a cropper, because he wouldn't work.
Fair visions he was viewing, of fortune and renown, but when it came to doing, he wouldn't buckle down.
He took it out in dreaming of wealth in vast amounts, while t'other lads were scheming to swell their bank accounts. And so we plant his system behind this old stone barn, and not a soul has missed him, and no one cares a darn." Oh, Golden youth, get busy, while you possess the year,
and labor till you're dizzy, like gran-

GROCERS

AND MEAT DEALERS HEAR INTERESTING PAPER BY DAVID C. METZ.

Good Advice Given as to the Conduct of Retail Business to Those Present.

The Grocers and Meat Dealers Association had a very interesting meeting last Tuesday night. After the regular business was transacted, D. C. Metz read a very interesting paper given in part below.

Mr. President and Brother Grocers: The last year has been a trying one on the grocer and meat dealer. Has it ever occurred to you the vast amount of money we loaned to public over and above the normal in other years? If we had any way of getting the figures it would amount to many millions of dollars—the amount would be so great that it would be astounding. Many men were out of work, or on half or quarter time, but they must eat. A person can make their old shoes do a little while longer, the old clothing will do another year, if they must, one small fire will do to cook and warm by, but man can not do without food for a single day without suffering, and if it goes a few days or a week, death occurs. So you see we had a great work before us, but have the people we befriended paid the bills since work has become better? I dare say that many have forgotten our friendship and help, therefore we should have better collecting laws. It should be a felony for a person to move out of the county or state without first paying, or making some satisfactory arrangement to pay for what he or his family has eaten. We should be protected the same as the hotel and boarding house; I can not see the difference it makes where a man gets his food. If it is against the law to beat a hotel it should be against the law to beat a grocer or meat dealer. But some say why do you sell on credit? Why not sell for cash? If we had sold for cash the past year the distress would have been appalling in this country—the charities could not have coped with the situation. The conditions would have been as bad, if not worse, than in the warring nations of the old countries.

The public could help us in many ways—the good, honest man is not respected as he should be; the dishonest person should be spurned as a robber and a thief, which he is. The ministers in our churches could help us very much, if once in a while they would preach a stinging sermon on paying bills, and honesty. A few months ago I heard a minister say to his congregation that he wanted some money for missions. But he added, "If any of you owe the grocer or butcher we do not want your money." A few such remarks, or a good sermon on paying bills would help our cause vastly. This should not be necessary in the churches, but I am sorry to say not all church members pay for what they eat.

We are often accused of overcharging, and the high price of living. The papers and magazines have had many articles on the public dealing direct with the producer. What a chaos this would produce in every day life and how soon prices would be much higher than they now are. The grocer is the watch dog for the public; it is he who buys as cheap as possible, and the best the market affords, and he studies the distribution, or delivery system to a fine art. Last year when so much was said about the high price of living, the National Grocer's Association sent John M. Green, the national secretary, to the old countries to investigate prices and the cost of distribution. Mr. Green's report was that we in the United States distribute goods cheaper and better than any civilized country on the globe.

According to Bradstreet's and Dunn's reports, but five per cent out of every one hundred of the small dealers make any money, the balance, or 95 per cent, just make a living, or go to the wall. This is not a pleasant picture to look upon my brother grocermen, and it does not look as if we received more than is coming to us. If we consider that the running expenses of a grocery are from 16 to 23 per cent of the sales, the actual profits from 2 to 4 per cent, under the best conditions, is it any wonder that so many of our so-called cut price stores go to the wall, and beat the honest, well-meaning wholesaler out of his money?

Some of the public have been misinformed, or have a wrong conception of our association. We stand for the uplifting of trade, to eliminate trade abuses, to put our business on a better and a higher plain.

Our constitution forbids making prices either in selling or buying. Any member can trust whom he pleases—we give him the opportunity to find out who is deserving and who is not—it is up to him to choose.

Our commercial men of the past were not of the best—many gambled and drank, and were of a low character; today we have the best men in the land on the road; men of character, honest, sober and industrious.

To close my admonition to my fellow grocers is this—be honest and upright in your dealing—get a living price for your goods—no more, and the public in general will be with us.

Odd Christmas Beliefs

INDIANS say that the best time to catch a deer is on Christmas night at 12 o'clock, when they believe the deer kneels.

Some of the Germans believe that those born on Christmas day have the power of seeing spirits and even commanding them.

A popular saying in Spain for Christmas day is, "The bird of dawn singeth all night long to frighten away all evil things."

In Roumania it is the custom to bless the Danube at Christmas, and a procession consisting of priests and people dressed to represent Biblical characters moves through the streets singing chants, and so to the banks of the river. The ice is broken and a small wooden cross thrown into the water. Any one who can recover the cross is regarded as extremely fortunate and sure of good luck for the remainder of the year.

Christmas celebrations in Mexico begin Dec. 17 and continue until Dec. 24. Each night a festival is held, nine in all, an invitation being sent out to these "posadas." "Posada" means "inn," typifying the way the holy travelers, Joseph and Mary, sought in vain for rest and shelter.

WOMEN VOLUNTEERS

In stress and trouble the women of a nation are always to be counted upon. In this country few of our women escape the weakening trouble peculiar to their sex.

Thousands of mothers, wives and daughters in Ohio, who have regained health, vigor and cheerful disposition after months of misery and even despair, are the ones who truly appreciate the marvelous restorative power of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Take the following example:

Wooster, Ohio.—"I suffered from a weakness of catarrhal nature and got so bad from it I could not even sleep well. I was unable to get help from any remedy until I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This made a marked difference at once. I used six bottles and the effects were marvelous. I was then cured, as I have had no return of it since. I am glad to recommend this remedy."—MRS. NELLIE PARKS, 133 Le Roy St., Wooster, Ohio.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is and has been for nearly 50 years just the medicine. It is not a secret prescription, for its ingredients are printed on the wrapper; it's a temperance medicine, a glyceric extract from roots.

Not only does it build up the entire system and make it strong and vigorous enough to withstand the organic disturbances, but it has a quieting effect upon the feminine organism.

Every woman should be careful that the liver is active and the poisons are not allowed to clog the system—get rid of these poisons by taking a vegetable laxative occasionally—such as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They do not gripe and will not harm the most delicate system.

Consult Dr. Pierce by letter, correspondence private and confidential, address Doctor Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

AUSTRIA

GIVES A VERSION OF SEVERAL UNSUCCESSFUL ATTACKS BY ITALIANS

Montenegrin Bands Said to Have Been Annihilated in the Southwest.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Vienna, Dec. 9.—Via London, Dec. 10.—The following statement was given out by the Austrian war office tonight:

"Russian theatre: There have been no special events.

"Italian theatre: Unsuccessful attacks by the Italians against some sectors of our front in the region of Gorizia have continued. Such attacks near Osilava, on San Michele, and near San Martino were repulsed. Near Dolje, northwest of Tolmino, our troops improved their positions by capturing part of the enemy front. In the southern Tyrol the Italian artillery has been bombarding some positions in the region of Lardaro and Riva.

"Southeastern theatre: On the heights south of Plevlje Montenegrin bands have been annihilated in the frontier region north of Berane. We forced the left wing of the Montenegrins to retreat. Battles against the light wings also were successful. On the heights west of Ipek, the Serbian rear guard was repulsed. The number of prisoners taken yesterday was two officers and 1,000 men.

"Regarding events on the sea, one of our submarines on Tuesday captured in the Bay of Drin and Albanian ship having aboard thirty Serbian military refugees, with rifles, four guns and munitions. The ship was taken to Cattaro."

WILL CREEDEN IS IN HOSPITAL FOR OPERATION

Mr. Will Creeden, former manager of the Warden Hotel in this city, but for the last several months in charge of the night desk of the Virginia Hotel at Columbus, was taken to Mt. Carmel hospital in that city today and will undergo an operation to remedy the shattering of the cartilage bone in his right leg.

A consultation was held on Mr. Creeden's case yesterday at which Dr. Hamilton, a noted Capital City surgeon, was present, and he will assist in the operation today. It is expected that Mr. Creeden will be able to leave his room for a number of weeks as his leg will be placed in plaster of paris until the trouble is remedied.

A telegram was received by Harry Starr, the well known B. & O. engineer, last evening, which was signed by Mr. Creeden stating that he would be placed upon the operating table today. He was very optimistic of the outcome and also stated that the trouble was not as serious as was first thought and expressed the hope that he might meet with his Newark friends in a very short time.

"No Santa Claus!"

If it be true, as some do say, That there's no Santa Claus, What is this spirit on the way That never seems to pause When Christmas chimes are sounding clear?

Upon the frosty night In spreading splendid gifts of cheer In every mortal's night?

What is this sense of glow divine That comes to you and me When watching all that happy line Of children round the tree? Whence comes this mantling atmosphere, So full of sweet release That fills upon us once a year And covers us with peace?

No Santa Claus? Oh, men of doubt, Whence comes this sorry claim? Would you so fair a spirit frown For reasons of a name? Dear Santa Claus is everywhere Where hearts are true and kind, And where there's love of man 'tis there His presence rare we find. —John Kendrick Bangs in Harper's Weekly.

The Newborn King. To the superficial skeptic it may seem some ground for doubting the divine character of Jesus Christ that he should be born in a stable and in a manger and the first countenances of the young King of the Jews should be the rude shepherds of Bethlehem. But, to him who thinks, these difficulties become rather evidences of his glorious character and beneficent mission to the human race. Between the stable of Bethlehem and the marble palace of the Caesars in Rome there can be, in the sight of God, only the difference between two little things, for all that is created must be little in the sight of the infinite God. And as the mission of Christ was to elevate the helpless and the poor it was eminently suitable that he should be born among them. For those who are weak enough to be scandalized at his poverty we say, Behold the kings of the east are prostrate at his feet, offering their gold, incense and myrrh. Being wise men, they well understood that the little thing of earthly splendor was not essential to such a royalty as his—Archbishop Ryan.

"A rose by any other name would smell as sweet," quoted the Wise Guy. "Yes, a highball tastes just as good in a repeller as on a root garden," replied the Simple Mug.

LARGEST

EXPORTS DURING NOVEMBER IN HISTORY OF THE NEW YORK PORT.

Foodstuffs and Explosives Formed Considerable Portion, Wheat and Steel Leading.

New York, Dec. 10.—Exports from the port of New York during the month of November exceeded $100,000,000, the largest amount in the history of the port according to estimates made today by custom house officials. Foodstuffs and explosives formed a considerable portion of the November exports with iron and steel also reaching a large total. Wheat and iron led the records, showing a long list of raw and manufactured products in this class.

Cotton and copper were shipped in considerable volume as were cartridges, shells, automobiles and parts, aeroplanes and parts of various types of airplanes. The purchases it was believed were almost equally divided between England and France.

Debate figures on the imports for November are not yet available, but officials estimated that they would be about the same as for the previous month which would result in the United States of having a large trade balance for the period.

MANY TROUBLES DUE TO WEAK KIDNEYS

It is no use advising a medicine unless the medicine itself is good enough to back up the claim you make for it. On the other hand it is a pleasure for druggists to sell a medicine when customers come in afterward and tell how much good it has done them. And that is why druggists like to sell and recommend Solvay, the great kidney remedy. Ever since we first introduced Solvay drug clerks have been so busy selling it that it is sometimes hard to keep a sufficient stock on hand. Moreover Solvay is always sold on a positive guarantee of relief to the kidney sufferer or money back. This may seem rash but users have said so many good words in favor of Solvay that it is not expected that many packages will be returned.

This shows great faith in Solvay. It really is a most unusual medicine because it overcomes the worst cases of kidney complaints by removing the cause. It goes straight to the seat of the trouble. It soaks right in and cleans out the kidney and makes them pass off all the uric acid and poisonous waste matter that lodges in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatic pains, swollen and heated joints and quickly ends all such troubles. Nothing is more uncomfortable or hurts a person's perfect enjoyment of life more than troublesome kidneys and their attending evils. Use Solvay and begin to get your full measure of benefit out of life. Sold by T. J. Evans and other leading druggists in this vicinity.

Fine Healthy Child Convincing Evidence

Simple Inexpensive Remedy Checks
Early Tendency to Constipation.

About the first thing impressed on the young Mother is the necessity for regularity in her baby, which brings up the question of the most desirable laxative for children's use.

Mrs. Jesse Richardson, Philmont, Ky., says she has used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for the past year and that there is no medicine in the world like it. She writes, "My little son, William, Jr., just loved it because it is so pleasant to take, and everybody talks about his being such a fine healthy boy."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of simple laxative herbs, free from any opiate or narcotic drug, and is the standard remedy for constipation in thousands of homes throughout the land. Drug Stores everywhere sell it for fifty cents a bottle. Get a bottle of this excellent remedy, and have it in the house. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

Evan Williams is well known to Newark lovers of ballad singing, and his pure tenor is greatly enjoyed by those who hear his rendition for the phonograph.

Those who appreciate the great value of temperment in a pianist, will look for it when Yolanda Mero touches the keys in Memorial Hall, next Tuesday evening.

Madame Mero is pronounced by music critics of other papers as a wonderful performer, and those who delight in this form of musical expression await with pleasurable anticipation, next Tuesday evening when the young Hungarian woman is scheduled to play.

The seat sale for this concert opens Saturday morning at 56 Chamber of Commerce Building, Columbus.

KAISER IS TO VISIT BELGIUM

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Amsterdam, via London, Dec. 10.—Emperor William will visit Brussels December 19 to 22, according to the Belgian correspondents of Dutch newspapers. He will also visit the neighboring parts of Belgium including the field of Waterloo, it is said.

AT DRESDEN ALSO THEY WANT PEACE.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Bern, Switzerland, via Paris, Dec. 10.—Peace manifestations have occurred not only at Berlin, but at Dresden, and Leipzig, according to the German correspondent of the Tagwacht. The correspondent adds that the conviction prevails among the masses in Germany that only a revolutionary outbreak would force the government to make peace.

EVERY one is familiar with the meals that go to make up the Christmas dinner of the English speaking races—the turkey, goose, plum pudding and mince pie festivals—but how many of us know what they eat at Christmastide in foreign countries?

The Frenchman's Christmas bill of fare, for instance, is extensive and varied and in many respects quite different from our own. The great Gallic national dishes are truffled turkey and black puddings, of which every Frenchman who can afford such luxuries makes a very hearty meal at Yuletide.

In Russia the Christmas meal consists largely of two dishes—one of wheat porridge served with honey and the other a curious compound of stewed pears, apples, oranges and cherries, sweetened with honey and served cold.

Italians, too, are fond of rather sweet and indigestible dishes, especially at Christmas. One of their favorite combinations is that of eels, periwinkles and vermicelli, while the inevitable macaroni and spaghetti form, of course, the principal articles of food at all times.

The German Christmas dinner offers as its principal attraction the goose, without which your true German would feel that he had not had a real holiday feast. Germans, like Austrians and Italians, have a very sweet taste, as evidenced by their numerous varieties of cake.

Notwithstanding the tendency in all countries to offer huge dinners at Christmas, it would seem that every nation's holiday bill of fare is becoming simpler with the course of time. An interesting comparison may be made of the Christmas dinners formerly served in England and in this country with those of today, albeit the latter are by no means scanty.

The forbears of modern Englishmen must have possessed magnificent appetites. Their hospitality was conducted on a scale that would make the housekeeper of today shudder. The meal with which they commenced their Christmas day, a mere appetizer to them, was ample enough to rob the modern gourmet of all zest for food for several days. The sideboard of the old English mansion groined under its leviathan round of beef, its corpulent pork pie, the Yorkshire ham, the brawn and chine, while on the table itself deviled turkeys' legs, homemade sausages, cutlets and kidneys sent up a mingled and grateful incense from an environment of piles of hot buttered toast, new laid eggs, honey and fruit.

But this repast, substantial as it was, was trifling as compared with the dinner—the real dinner—that followed not many hours after. The feast was heralded by the boar's head, preceded by servants who blew resounding flourishes on their trumpets. The boar's head itself was carried, sometimes on a dish of gold or silver, into the banquet hall at the head of a stately procession of guests.

Then came the peacock, which was served, even more sumptuously than the boar's head, with its garnishing of rosemary and bays and its tusks ornamented with large apples. This is how they used to prepare the peacock for the feast: When it had been roasted and dressed with a stuffing of sweet herbs and spices and basted with the yolks of eggs it was sewed into its feathers, its beak was gilded, and it was borne to the dining hall by dames of high degree, accompanied by the strains of minstrelsy.

Other features of the old time Christmas dinner included geese, turkeys, capons, pheasants, sirloins of beef and haunches of venison. That these were washed down with gallons of ale and wine goes without saying. Indeed, another story might be written of the liquid element of the old English dinners.—Harper's Weekly.

You can't say of a rolling stone that it gathers no moss.

Ice Too Thin. Dresden, Dec. 10.—Fourteen young boys broke through the ice on the Ohio canal here yesterday while skating, but, as all happened to be near the shore, none was drowned, although all had trouble getting out. Man Killed; Wife Injured. Fremont, Dec. 10.—Henry H. Tucker, aged 85, was killed yesterday when his horse ran away and threw Tucker and his wife from their buggy. Mrs. Tucker was badly injured.

Aged Delaware Priest Dies. Delaware, Dec. 10.—Rev. Philip Steyle, aged 67, for 31 years in charge at St. Mary's Catholic church here, died last night, after a lingering illness.

Christmas Dinner at Bracebridge Hall

THE dinner was served up in the great hall, where the squirrel always held his Christmas banquet. A blazing, crackling fire of logs had been heaped on to warm the spacious apartment, and the flame went sparkling and wreathing up the wide mouthed chimney.

The great picture of the crusader and his white horse had been profusely decorated with greens for the occasion, and holly and ivy had likewise been wreathed around the helmet and weapons on the opposite wall.

A sideboard was set out just under this chivalric trophy, on which was a display of plate that might have vied (at least in variety) with Belshazzar's parade of the vessels of the temple—flasks, cans, cups, beakers, goblets, basins and ewers—the gorgeous utensils of good companionship that had gradually accumulated through many generations of jovial housekeepers. Before these stood the two Yule candles, beaming like two stars of the first magnitude. Other lights were distributed in branches, and the whole array glittered like a firmament of silver.

We were ushered into this banqueting scene with the sound of minstrelsy, the old harper being seated on a stool beside the fireplace and twanging his instrument with a vast deal more power than melody. Never did Christmas board display a more goodly and gracious assemblage of countenances. Those who were not handsome were at least happy, and happiness is a rare improver of your hard favored visage.

The parson said grace, which was not a short, familiar one, such as is commonly addressed to the Deity in those unceremonious days, but a long, courtly, well worded one of the ancient school. There was now a pause, as if something was expected, when suddenly the butler entered the hall with some degree of bustle. He was attended by a servant on each side with a large wax light and bore a silver dish, on which was an enormous pig's head, decorated with rosemary, with a lemon in its mouth, which was placed with great formality at the head of the table.—Washington Irving.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring color, lustre and thickness to hair when faded, streaked or gray.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it dardens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

The Christmas Pudding

HALLOO! A great deal of steam! The pudding was out of the copper. A smell like a washing day! That was the cloth. A smell like an eating house and a pastry cook's next door to each other, with a laundress' next door to that! That was the pudding. In half a minute Mrs. Cratchit entered, flushed, but smiling proudly, with the pudding like a speckled cannon ball, so hard and firm, blazing in half of half a quarter of ignited brandy and bedight with Christmas holly. At last the dinner was all done, the cloth was cleared, the hearth swept and the fire made up. The compound in the jug being tasted and considered perfect, apples and oranges were put upon the table and a shovelful of chestnuts on the fire. Then all the Cratchits family drew round the hearth in what Bob Cratchit called a circle, meaning half a one, and at Bob Cratchit's elbow stood the family display of glass—two tumblers and a custard cup without a handle. These held the hot stuff from the jug, however, as well as golden goblets would have done, and Bob served it out with beaming looks, while the chestnuts on the fire sputtered and cracked noisily. Then Bob proposed: "A merry Christmas to us all, my dears. God bless us!" Which all the family re-echoed. "God bless us every one!" said Tiny Tim, the last of all.—From "Christmas Carol," by Charles Dickens.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

IF CROSS, FEVERISH OR ILLIOUS GIVE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS."

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given. If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look! Mother! see its tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle. Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs;" then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

A Christmas Church

GIVE me a snug little church, dressed for the holidays in greens, wreaths of holly, long hanging garlands of ground pine and laurel, perhaps rather awkwardly, but none the less lovingly, arranged by interested church members, not by a hired florist, and filling the building with the breath of outdoors.

I want some trees on the pulpit and high overhead a blazing star of fire, shining out into the semi-twilight of the building. I want to rise in the starlighted darkness of a properly frosty Christmas morning and in everyday clothes, wearing mittens, if I choose, and my second best hat, walk briskly through quiet streets to the church and join the waiting congregation.

There won't be a crowd. There will be no display. Only a few score of those to whom Christmas means a wonderful reality will be there. And there will be congregational singing, lots of it, and we'll run the gamut of the hymns of the Nativity. We'll read the appropriate Scripture responsively and listen to the Christmas story told once again by the kindly voice of the unpretentious clergyman.—New York Evening Post.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your back hurts or bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

ARE GIVEN A REASONABLE INVITATION FOR PEACE, SAYS SOCIALIST

In Remarks Upon Imperial Chancellor's Speech to the Reichstag Yesterday.

Berlin, Dec. 9.—(Delayed)—Deputy Otto Landsberg, a Socialist Democrat, in his speech in the Reichstag today, after the imperial chancellor had answered the Socialist interpellation of peace expressed approval of the chancellor's address as a reasonable invitation to the entente allies to initiate peace negotiations in which Germany was willing to join.

Herr Landsberg declared that the Socialist appeal for peace was based on no anxiety about the outcome of the war. He said he shared Von Bethmann-Hollweg's opinion that the war has been forced upon Germany and that guarantees were necessary to prevent a repetition. No true German, he asserted, was desirous of ending the war on any other terms. He repeated the declaration made earlier in the day by Dr. Philipp Scheidemann, Socialist, that the Socialist never could consider a peace involving the retrocession of Alsace Lorraine.

Deputy Landsberg said that with Premier Asquith, of Great Britain and Premier Briand of France, both demanding the destruction of Prussian militarism which was equivalent to the destruction of a strong Germany, he could understand the chancellor's attitude in his speech and was pleased that Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, in return had not demanded the destruction of Russian and French Militarism or British "Machismo" which could render peace impossible. Regarding the acquisition of territory, the deputy expressed high satisfaction that the chancellor had made mention of annexation.

Deputy Landsberg said the chancellor had demanded securities against repetitions of wanton attacks. The Socialists, too, wish to preserve future generations from the battlefields and trenches continued the speaker, but there was no security against future wars in conducting this war to the exhaustion or subjugation of another nation.

In Milady's Boudoir

By Gwen Sears

A woman's carriage has much to do with the position of her shoulders. If the chest is held out and the abdomen is held in, the shoulders will take care of themselves. The back also will be naturally straight. It is said that if a person is standing correctly, the shoulder blades will not protrude and cannot be felt by another if the hand is passed over the first person's back.

An excellent exercise for the shoulders to do in the morning is to lie on the floor, with the arms outstretched above the head clasp a rod of sufficient length to afford a comfortable reach for the hands. While lying thus, bring the rod over the head to the knees and back to the first position again ten times. Besides straightening the shoulders this will cause the blood to race through your veins and so improve your general circulation that you will be wide awake for the breakfast table.

When sitting in a chair, except when exercising particularly for straight back and shoulders, it is not necessary to appear as though you were strapped to a board, but neither should you loiter and sprawl as do so many girls and women. Never sit on your spine and stand erect without stiffness. Rigidity tires, and when you sit or lie down there should always be that relaxing of the muscles which means true physical rest.

Poor eyesight will cause the shoulders of older persons, as well as those of younger ones, to droop. If the person is much given to reading. Other causes for round shoulders are overwork, the impure air of ill-ventilated rooms, lack of proper exercise, or too heavy clothing that is suspended from the shoulders. There are, of course, more serious illnesses which will cause drooping of the shoulders and for which a physician must be consulted.

Your Boys and Girls

The crib of a child after babyhood should be furnished with a pad or blanket between sheet and mattress. Both sheets and pillow slips should be trimmed save for a monogram or a bit of cross stitch in colors, if liked. The soft woolly blankets in checkerboard design are very attractive, especially in creamy white and wood brown. A dull blue combined with tan is also very effective.

Blankets on this order do not soil as quickly as white ones, and the checkerboard is a great improvement over the old-time gray and red blankets with their ugly black borders.

The spread can be made at home. A soft cotton poplin in a shade of pale tan, decorated with cutout animals, little folks and landscapes are all appropriate. A good plain trimming for sheets consists of three bands of saffron in a fast color, each cut a little narrower than the other and set on a few inches apart as a border. Another way is to set a motif in the center and edge with a fairly wide band.

Europe has about three and one-half times the telegraph traffic, nearly twice the first-class mail traffic, but only two-fifths the telephone traffic of the United States.

The trackless trolley system is used for general freight traffic in several parts of Germany.

Christmas at Christ's Birthplace

At last I am come to the market place, at one end of which stands the Church of the Nativity, marking the holy, lowly birthplace, says a writer in Army and Navy Life. There is only one entrance from the street, and it is so low that in entering one is forced to bow the head and assume a posture of reverence. When once inside I raise my eyes I feel the lashes wet.

The ceiling is lofty, the walls white washed and bare, while the ancient dark beams and rafters add to the air of extreme simplicity. There are long rows of marble pillars, once adorned with paintings, that are all but faded now, and of the once glittering mosaics of the chancel only fragments remain. Coming into the choir and apse, the scene is suddenly changed. There are numerous altars of diverse ownership under a constant and jealous guardianship of Latin, Greek and Armenian. Over these various claims there has been much of bitter dissension; blood has been spilled more than once. In fact, as all the world knows, the Crimean war began with a mob riot in the Church of the Nativity—sacilege of sacrilege!—and here was born the Prince of Peace!

Down the dark and winding stairs, slippery with the drippings of countless candles, I make my way to that lowly place into which first came the light of the world. The grotto of the Nativity is a cavern beneath the church, long, narrow and low ceiled, with pendent lamps of precious metal and rare workmanship lighting the gloom. The floor is marble, and wonderful old tapestries, pictures and silk hangings cover the walls. A marble cradle in one corner commemorates the manger, and in a recess on one side a dozen or more hanging lamps are ranged around in a half circle.

Before the altar there all men bend low and kiss the ground for Christ's sake, for it is here a silver star is set to mark the birthplace of him whom his mother called Jesus. The center of the star is glass, and through it one may see the original rocky floor of the stable. To the north of the grotto underneath the floor one may also see the cave in which St. Jerome spent many peaceful years translating the Bible into Latin.

The effect of the whole is impressive, but in an unfamiliar way. I am conscious of a feeling that is almost resentment against the lamps and tapestries and the marble floor. They seem to level to the cheapness of worldly riches a spot that, of all places on earth, should have been allowed to remain, tranquilly humble and dimly sacred, true to the character of its holy, transcendent memory.

I close my eyes for a moment, while mind and heart rebel against the present, until it vanishes and the atmosphere of the past, in all its deep and wondrous mystery, returns to envelop my soul. "I am here, in Bethlehem," I whisper to myself, and beyond closed lids I see the Virgin mother with her gentle face as the old masters loved to picture her and a "light that never was on land or sea" in her beautiful mother eyes, while the glory from one low hanging star touches a Baby's hair. The fragrant scent of new hay is in my nostrils, I hear the soft breathing of nearby cattle, and above the murmur of pilgrims' prayers the voice of the Magi is saying, "Lo, we have seen his star in the east and are come to worship him."

To Light Yule Log Properly. There are thousands who still firmly believe that to light the Yule log with the charred remains of its predecessor of a year ago means twelve months of good luck for the provident householder and his family. But it has always been considered an evil omen if a squinting person, a barefooted person or, worst of all, a flat footed woman enters the room while the log is burning.

Sometimes it takes a pretty strong man to carry out his own plans.

DIFFICULT

POSITION OF GREECE IN PRESERVING NEUTRALITY AND INDEPENDENCE.

Courier Brings Word That No Pressure Has Been Brought by Teuton Allies.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Vienna, by Courier to Berlin, Dec. 10.—It is authoritatively stated here that the central powers have brought no pressure whatever to bear on Greece. The view is held that the position of Greece is difficult in the highest degree and that the Greek government is endeavoring to preserve not only neutrality but complete independence. The position is taken here therefore that pressure on Greece is hardly called for and would even be useless so long as the Athens government is able to assert its own interests.

The interest of the central powers is stated as merely that Greece shall remain neutral, no more and no less. Considering the condition of the country and that the Greek government itself sees that for the welfare of the Hellenic power to remain neutral, the central powers, it is asserted, have no occasion to bring pressure to bear in Athens.

It is held by officials that inasmuch as Greece gave her consent for the entente powers to send troops across Greek territory and to take other military steps, this created a right for the Teutonic and Bulgarian troops to do the same.

HOW TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT

A Simple, Safe, Reliable Way.

People who are over-burdened with superfluous fat, know only too well the discomfort and ridicule that over-stout people have to bear.

If you are carrying around five or ten pounds of unhealthy fat you are unnecessarily weakening your vital organs and are carrying a burden which destroys the beauty of your figure.

There is no need of anyone suffering from superfluous fat. If you want to reduce your weight in a simple, safe and reliable way without starvation diet or tiresome exercise, spend as much time as you can in the open air, breathe deeply and get from any good druggist a box of oil of korein capsules, take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself once a week so as to know just how fast you are losing weight and don't leave off the treatment or even skip a single dose until you are down to normal.

Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps digestion and is designed to consume the excessive fatty tissue by increasing the oxygen-carrying power of the blood. Even a few days treatment should show a noticeable reduction in weight, footsteps become lighter, your work seems easier and lighter and more buoyant feeling takes possession of your whole being.

Every person who suffers from superfluous fat should give this treatment a trial, there is nothing better. W. A. Erman, Evans Drug Store can supply you.

Alhambra Tonight and Tomorrow. Victor Moore and Anita King in "Chimmie Fadden Out West."

Ramona, the famous burlesque of the Lasky company, contemplates resigning from that organization. This burlesque is the only one in captivity with a dramatic temperament and her reason for leaving the Lasky told is her object to playing comedy.

Ramona was cast to appear in support of Victor Moore, in the production of "Chimmie Fadden Out West," one of the screamingly funny Chimmie Fadden stories.

As Ramona had appeared in support of Geraldine Farrar, the celebrated operatic prima donna, both in "Carmen" and "Maria Rosa," and also had appeared in "The Unknown," in support of Lou Tellegen, formerly leading man for Sarah Bernhardt, she decided that drama was her forte. While Ramona had no objection to appearing with Victor Moore, she got the impression first that the play was to be of the slapstick brand of comedy, and with this she refused to be identified. However, when informed that it was to be comedy of a high order, she consented to appear but announced that in the future, she would not appear in anything but Shakespearean revivals or Ibsen dramas. To show her utter contempt for the whole affair she promptly ate all the fur on Mr. Moore's bearskin chaps.

ONE OF BEST OF ALL MEETINGS AT CENTRAL CHURCH

The meeting at the Central Church of Christ last evening was one of the best of the series, to date. There was a good sized crowd present, and the interest was deep. Evangelist Brown spoke on the subject of "The Pleasures of Sin." In a dramatic manner, he depicted some of the scenes in the early life of Moses,—how he was saved from death by the love and ingenuity of his mother and sister, and how, when he was grown strong and influential in the Egyptian court, he refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter, choosing to suffer affliction with the people of God than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season. He showed clearly how deceitful and disappointing are the pleasures of sin. He made a strong appeal for all who had not done so to deny the world in order to be accepted of God. Two persons responded to the invitation, both of them mothers.

The subject of the sermon this evening will be "What Is the Church?" The evangelist, in this sermon, will compare the Church and the lodge. A large number of members of the various fraternal orders of the city are expected. There will be a brief service Saturday evening, beginning at 7:30, and lasting just one hour. A large Bible school is expected Sunday morning. It will be known as "Recognition Sunday." There will be three, great preaching services during the day. At each of these services, a thank offering will be taken, for the evangelist, and his helpers. It is greatly desired that every member and friend of the church will bring or send a generous offering for this purpose.

TROTTER HORSE ASSOCIATION MAY AMEND ITS RULES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

New York, Dec. 10.—The National Trotting Horse Association in its congress here next February, will consider a resolution curtailing the appointive powers of the president of the association. The resolution was adopted by the board of review in its concluding session yesterday.

John C. Welty of Canton, Ohio, third vice president is understood to be the author of the resolution. Its adoption is regarded by horsemen as the one result of a revolt of the younger members of the association, headed by Ohio horsemen against the conservatism element.

The board of review also recommended the adoption by the association at its next congress of a rule providing that the length of a race and number of heats be contested shall be stated in the published conditions.

Urges Everyone to Quickly Get on Water Wagon

Drink glass of hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

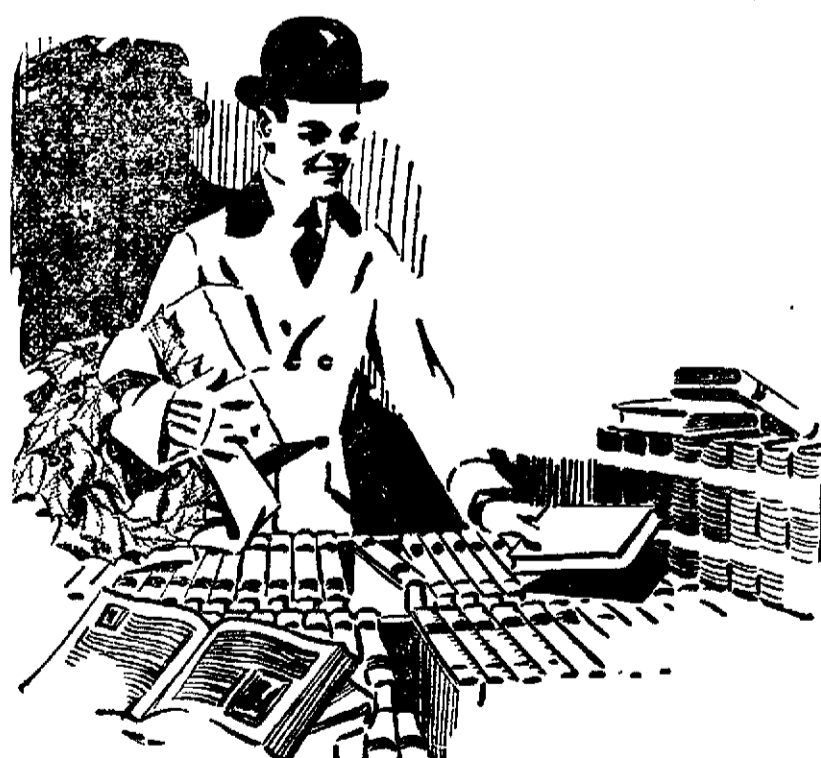

To see the tinge of healthy bloom on your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal, before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside-bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.

EAST SIDE IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

MEETING LAST EVENING AND ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR RALLY DAY

The Organization is Determined to Secure Recognition as Important Part of Newark.

The East Side Industrial and Improvement Association met last evening at Fromholtz's Hall in East Newark, a large percentage of the members being present. It had been the intention to make the meeting a rally but the committee in charge was unable to secure a speaker for the occasion and the rally meeting was postponed until a future date at which time refreshments will be served and special features will be introduced.

At last night's meeting President
D. C. Metz presided, calling the members to order at 7:45 o'clock.
After the minutes of the previous meeting had been read and approved,
a discussion of the duties of the board of directors occurred with the result that a resolution was passed fully defining their duties and enlarging their scope of usefulness.

The membership committee reported excellent progress and was continued. A refreshment committee of five was next appointed by President Metz who also authorized the rally day committee to secure a competent speaker for the occasion,
one who is posted on the part played by industrial associations, similar to the East Side organization, in other cities.

A general discussion was indulged in for the next hour by the members on projects for the improvements of the East Side and it was the unanimous decision of all present that the first thing needed and which would be promoted by the association,
would be the installation of a comfort station for women and children.
The matter will be brought to the attention of the city council in the very near future and it will be shown how necessary such a station is for the East Side. Council will be urged to take immediate action on the matter.

Calls from President Metz were responded to by a number of the members and many excellent suggestions were made. The Advocate was tendered a vote of thanks for the interest and publicity which it has taken in the organization.

The East Side Industrial and Improvement Association is bound to be a great benefit to that end of the city. It is composed of men of all walks of life, including the manufacturer, merchant, professional, laborer and railroad. Nearly all own property in that end of the city and they are more than interested in its growth and uplift. They are filled with enthusiasm and civic pride and while the organization has started in a small way it is bound to grow and in time will be more than advantageous to the East End and undoubtedly will assist materially in greatly increasing the industrial conditions of that section as well as inaugurate civic improvements that will greatly benefit and beautify that thriving section of the city.

Religious Significance of Christmas

CHRISTMAS has new meanings
as the years go on. There was a period—say half a century ago and less—when the religious meanings were somewhat enfeebled in the minds of many by the dazzling dominance of scientific discovery and thought.

To many whatever Christmas then had of spiritual meaning was rather
in the way of sentiment, of tradition,
of natural good fellowship and of the spirit of practical charity.

There was a haunting sense of un-reality in the direct message of the pulpit, a feeling that the historic supernatural was much akin to the innocence of the Santa Claus myth itself.

Since then the Christ idea has taken new significance and proportions in those minds which are of the kind called skeptical, even in the minds over which the warrant of the supernatural has little sway or none at all.

In books and sermons one comes upon the preaching of the idea of Christ and the message of Christianity
in a tone and in a language which appeal with tremendous force not only to the so called orthodox, but to all serious minds of whatever training or tendency.—Century Magazine.

On the Trail

I PEEKED around a bit last night.
I thought I'd like to get a sight
Of old man Santa Claus.
I come a-sneakin' down the stair
And hid behind the parlor chairs,
As still as two small baby bears
With butter on their paws.

I sat, and sat, and sat, and sat,
All scrunched up like a Hottentot.
And slowly breathed at all.
'Twas awful dark and kind o' weird,
And as the hours disappeared
I felt myself a-gettin' skeered
At noises in the hall.

And nen old Sandy hove in vlew.
He wore a shaggy coat and two
Big goggles on his eyes.
He wore a pair of motor mitts
As fuzzy as a pussy kit's
And wool cap like my mother knits
For daddykin's surprise.

He whispered once or twice, and nen
He cocked like a settin' hen
Or like a rooster does.
"He'll never know me now!" said he
While fixin' up the Christmas tree.
But old man Sandy can't fool me—
I knew just who he was!

STOMACH MISERY QUICKLY VANISHES

Your money back if you want it is the way in which T. J. Evans the popular druggist is selling Mi-o-na,
the great dyspepsia remedy.
This is an unusual plan, but invariably successful in relieving all forms of indigestion that he runs but little risk in selling under a guarantee of this kind.

Do not be miserable or make your friends miserable with your dyspepsia. Mi-o-na will help you. If it doesn't, tell T. J. Evans that you want your money back and he will cheerfully refund it.

A change for the better will be seen from the first few doses of Mi-o-na and its continued use will soon start you on the road to perfect digestion and enjoyment of food.

Mi-o-na has been so uniformly successful that every box is sold under a positive guarantee to refund
the money if it does not relieve.
What fairer proposition could be made?

T. J. Evans gives you a personal guarantee of "money back if you want it" with every box of Mi-o-na that he sells. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

Duchess Accompanies Macmillen on Violin.

FRANCIS MACMILLEN, the American violinist—the pride of Orte, as he is called in Rome—has no warmer admirer in all Italy than the Duke and Duchess Lante della Rovere, at whose beautiful villa at Orte the virtuoso makes his home when in or near Rome. The duke is the cousin of the present king of Italy and head of the family of Rovere, which in the last 250 years has given three popes to the Catholic church. He is an amateur violinist of much ability and, with the duchess at the piano, frequently plays with Macmillen such selections as the Bach double concerto. Macmillen is one of the artists who has been selected for the series of concerts to be given early in 1916 by the Newark Women's Music Club. If enough tickets are sold to guarantee the expenses of the series.

A ROUND-UP OF BEAR AND DEER IN LICKING CO.

The man who wrote the following for the Columbus Dispatch, has either a remarkable memory, or slight regard for news value. At any rate the Advocate prints it as it appeared in that paper and requests any reader who participated in the hunt to verify the statements contained.

In the year 1825 there was a round-up hunt in Harrison township, Licking county, projected mainly to exterminate a gang of wolves that had taken up quarters in what was known as "Bobbins Deadening," a tract of 1500 acres of many years' standing, and were preying on the livestock of the township. The second growth of timber was thick and it was difficult for a man to make his way through this deadening.

The pioneers went about it systematically. A surveyor, James Holmes, laid out a tract four miles square with the "deadening" as its center, blazing the trees to mark its outlines, and also marking in the same way diagonal lines across the square so that the hunters might make their way with certainty toward the common center. Holmes was, in fact, one of the promoters of the hunt and became on the day selected for it, its commander-in-chief.

"The hunters met at sunrise on the day selected at a rendezvous, and were given final instructions. Each man brought his lunch with him but no one was allowed to bring a rifle to the hunt. The hunters passed out quietly along the blazed outlines of the square. There were enough to cover the lines at intervals of a few yards. A trumpet blast announced that the lines were "set," and a second blast was the signal to advance from all sides toward the center.

"Then fun began. The deer were the first to be started. Wild turkeys soon began to take wing. But they could not be controlled. Many rose and soared over the lines to safety. The wolves were the last to be seen. Not until the enclosing lines embraced only the deadening were the wolves seen skulking through the brush and behind logs. Only three were found and they were killed. There was much speculation as to whether others might not have escaped.

"The quarry at the close of the hunt was as follows: One black bear, three wolves, 49 deer, 79 turkeys and one owl. Such small game as is now hunted was, of course, given no attention whatever. Harrison township is one of the southwestern townships of Licking county, and the place of this great round-up hunt in 1825 was between the villages of Pataskala and Outville."

PHYSICS CLASSES OF HIGH SCHOOL TRY EXPERIMENT

The physics classes of the High School performed an interesting experiment Thursday afternoon, the results of which are commonly known but very rarely verified. The object was the determination of the velocity of sound in air. Sixty students participated, dividing themselves into two groups, 30 in each, on high points of the Jackson-town pike, south of the cemetery. Each group was provided with a shotgun and stop-watch and they measured the time elapsing between the flash and report of the gun of the other party. Twenty-one shots were fired and records obtained from seventeen of them. The average time was 3.24 seconds. This gives a velocity of 1011.2 feet per second. The thermometer stood just at the freezing point, at which temperature the accepted speed is 1090.2 feet per second.

Dropsy Treated Free

By Dr. Miles, the Great Specialist, Who Sends a New $2.75 Treatment Free. Many Cured After Others Failed.

At first no disease is apparently more harmless than dropsy; a little swelling of the eyelids, hands, feet, ankles or abdomen. Finally there is great shortness of breath, cough, faint spells, sometimes nausea and vomiting, even bursting of the limbs and a lingering stretched death if the dropsy is not cured.

Dr. Miles has been known as a leader in the treatment of these diseases for 20 years. His record of a cure of $2.75 treatment, and all sufferers, is certain. It is a matter of serious consideration. Do not neglect it. Have such an opportunity.

The Great Dropsy Treatment consists of four dropsy remedies in one, also Tonic Tablets and Para-Lava for removing the water. This treatment is specially prepared for each patient and is three times as successful as that of most physicians. It usually relieves the first day, and removes swelling in six days in most cases. Delay is dangerous.

The members of the Junior class of Denison university entertained with a banquet on Thursday evening at the Hotel Warden. The affair was one of the prettiest to be given at the hotel, the beauty of the gowns worn by the young women harmonizing with the attractiveness of the table appointments.

The large dining room was used, the tables being arranged with small wicker baskets filled with scarlet flowers, and caught with huge bows of scarlet tulle. Smilax festoons were used the length of the tables and at each place were found red suede booklets with the numerals "17" and the letters "D" done in silver, which contained the menu, and the program.

NEW METHOD MAKES STRAIGHT HAIR WAVY

(Popular Hygiene)
It has been found that a simple and harmless fluid, well known to the drug trade, has a remarkable action when applied to straight, lank, unruly hair. It drives in exquisite waves and curls which have all the appearance of true naturalness. It has also proved a delightful and beneficial dressing for the hair.

This product is nothing more than ordinary liquid salerine, which anyone can afford to use. A few ounces of it will last a long time. One will enjoy using it, too, not only because there is nothing sticky, greasy, or unpleasant about it, but because it is so easy to apply. It is only necessary to moisten a clean tooth brush with the liquid and draw this through the hair from crown to tip. If this is done at bedtime the hair will be beautifully wavy and curly in the morning, and will not have that dull, scorched look which comes from the use of a hot iron.

Every Day Etiquette

THEY REFUSE TO EAT

At periods in most children's lives they fail to relish their meals and refuse to eat even the delicacies prepared to tempt their appetites. They lack ambition, and growth seems impeded, which causes anxiety and worry.

To compel them to eat is a grave mistake, because nutrition is impaired. Healthful exercise in fresh air and sunshine is important, but equally important is a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion three times a day to feed the tissues and furnish food-energy to improve their blood, aid nutrition and sharpen their appetites.

The highly concentrated medicinal food in Scott's Emulsion supplies the very elements children need to build up their strength. They refuse to eat—It is because they lack blood.

Mr. Hibbert passed away in 1894, leaving one son, Edward Hibbert. Later she was united in marriage to W. H. Chilcote, who passed away seven years ago.

Mrs. Chilcote spent the greater part of her life in Newark, where she had a legion of friends who mourn her sudden death. Her death, which

INVESTIGATION OF STRIKES IN U. S. MUNITIONS PLANTS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Dec. 10.—U. S. Atty. Marshall said today that the grand jury investigating the alleged activities of Franz Von Rintelen to investigate strikes in munition factories would reconvene next week, probably Wednesday. A mass of new evidence obtained by the district attorney's office in co-operation with agents of the department of justice, it was learned today, definitely implicates certain members of the consular staffs of Germany and Austria, but no one connected with the district attorney's office would say whether indictments against any foreign consuls was expected, though it was admitted this was a possibility.

AN INDIAN STORY

By Martha Wintermute

I tell you 'twas fun, and we had it, Teddy and Harry and me. We were gathering vines in the spring lot. To trim up the meeting house, see! When all of a sudden we saw it, A snake curling up through the trees, What's that? Guess it is, answered Teddy. I said, let's go home or we'll freeze. It was Indians cooking their dinner— We had heard there were Indians 'round. I was frightened a little, but Teddy To slip up and see them was bound. I had never seen Indians, never, And Harry he'd never been close too. So we made up our minds in a jiffy What we boys were going to do. We'd peek through the cracks of their wigwam. And there, sure enough, we could see, An Indian weaving a basket. And a squaw cooking dinner for three.

Far off in one corner a papoose Was skulking and whining, 'twas plain. There was something the matter, like measles. For she crooned him, again and again.

At last they sat down to their dinner They didn't notice but taters and salt. They gabbered and jabbered and jabbered. As it it was somebody's fault.

The papoose would eat no potatoes, And O, there was tantum and tears Till that Indian got mad and just took it.

And spanked it and pinched its small ears. We knew it was mean to be peeking. But we wanted to see how 'twould end. Then Teddy marched right to the doorway And asked them a basket to lend.

We took it and ran straight to mother, And dinner was ready you see. All steaming and stewing and waiting For Teddy and Harry and me.

We asked for a dinner for Indians, But mother went wrong, sure enough And father came round unexpected, And gave us a terrible bluff.

Then I spoke up and said, who'd have thought it. Of two good good Christians as you? When they're nothing but taters for dinner. And a sick baby crying there, too.

Well boys, then if you'll take your dinner. In the kitchen, of bread and milk cold. You may give of the turkey and goodies. As much as your basket will hold.

We saw that the case was decided, And what upon earth would we do. We looked at each other dumbfounded And smelling the good victuals too.

I was dreadfully hungry and something Came up and was choking me so. Till Teddy spoke brave, "I'll do it." Then the rest of us said, "It's a go!"

So we hurried and ate in the kitchen. The cold bread and milk, but 'twas good. Then away we ran with our basket. To those Indians, back in the wood.

And it paid, as we set it before them, And watched while they jabbered and ate.

That papoose had nothing like measles By the turkey they piled on its plate.

They laughed and they danced and they grunted. And squatted right down by our feet. And Teddy said, after we left them "Did you ever see Indians eat?"

And so we got no Christmas dinner. But on New Years we got one to pay. It is easy to give, explained mother The things of another away.

It is easy to give Christmas dinners Of food that is nothing to you, Quite a different thing when you're hungry To leave off the turkey and stew.

And just while she talked came a rap-ping. And when father opened the door, There that Indian stood, and he grunted, "For boys!" and threw down on the floor.

Three bows and a dozen nice arrows. All well and polished like his honor. How he yelled as we scrambled to get them. Then stalked off and left us alone.

Masonic Temple. N. 4th and Church Sts.

EVERY year the little green bayberry candles are sent as luck bringing gifts to an even greater extent than during the past few holiday seasons. The reason for this is that the people who received them the past year or two—and who did not?—thought that they really did seem to bring them good fortune; hence this increasingly rapid growth of the candle's popularity as a substitute for the conventional Christmas card or as constituting in itself an unpretentious little gift symbolizing every good wish.

But, while a great many people both send and receive bayberry candles as gifts, there are but few who know whence they come or why the luck superstition is inseparable from them.

The candles, or "dips," as they were first called, are the product of a revived industry started a few years ago in the old Massachusetts towns of Deerfield and Hingham and in the kitchens of the Cape Cod people, all of them using the old pewter or tin molds that have descended in the families from colonial times. Old southern villages have not as yet realized the opportunity offered its women in this revived industry, although the bayberry candles were made by the early settlers in all the coast colonies where the berries grew, never being found inland.

As to the origin of the good luck idea, we seek it in vain among colonial chronicles as applied to the candle itself. Yet from times far earlier the bay tree and the laurel were considered sacred to good fortune, and it is from this immemorial belief that we must trace the present day faith in the virtues of the bayberry candle.

The bay is a species of laurel, and as poets and victors were crowned with the laurel or the bay, wishing them long life and happiness, so is the same wish conveyed in the bestowal of a candle made of the waxen berries borne by the sacred tree.

Bayberry dips are also made as well as the molded candles. These dips are smaller and less even in shape and show us how candles were made by repeatedly dipping the wicks in the melted wax of the bayberries and drying each layer till the dip was of proper size. That was before molds were introduced, early in the eighteenth century.

To accompany a bayberry candle one should send in the little box in which it is daintily wrapped a card on which is printed, in red and green lettering, the legend.

ON CHRISTMAS EVE.
A bayberry candle burnt to the socket brings luck to the house,
Food to the larder,
And gold to the pocket.

When these cards are not to be found the luck rhyme may be written on the back of one's visiting card and wrapped with a candle, but in that case it must not be forgotten that the inclosure of writing necessitates extra postage.

Their color, a soft olive green, blends beautifully with other Christmas decorations, and they burn with a steady flame, emitting a delightfully pungent fragrance, and they are consumed evenly all around without making unsightly gutters or ridges of wax down the sides as ordinary candles do.

From New England comes the tradition that if lovers separated by distance each lights a bayberry candle in honor of the other at the same hour the aroma or incense arising from the burning wick will drift in the direction of the absent one; hence the candles make a strong appeal to young people of romantic temperament.

A candle must be presented to you, not bought by yourself, in order to insure good luck, and you must not light your own; that must be done for you by some other person, not necessarily the donor.

Christmas eve is the time for burning, either at dinner or later, and to follow out the old idea of the laurels and the bays to the victor a candle should surely be bestowed on the relative or friend who has recently achieved some success or won a distinction.—Philadelphia Press.
